The First Ornament

Milo held the oldest ornament carefully while Nora found the perfect branch. When it caught the lamplight, they knew their Christmas tree had begun to glow.

The Secret Recipe

In the kitchen, Grandad stirred the soup while everyone added one small ingredient. The room filled with steam, laughter, and a recipe that tasted better because it was made together.

The Star at the Window

At last, the family stepped back from the tree. Even the cat sat very still as the star shone above them, reminding everyone that the best part of Christmas was being close.
